

your supply center™

a better way to buy

EASY TO USE, ON-LINE PROGRAM Your Supply Center organizes all your suppliers and their products into a single, customized web site for centralized ordering, as well as user, product, supplier and data management. It automates most of the processes involved in procurement, saving everyone time and money. It separates the technology that runs your supply channel from the vendors who supply the products, giving you more control. It increases accountability, eliminating maverick spending and waste. And, it increases the visibility of your system through up-to-the-minute reports, affording fresh insight and increased productivity. Your Supply Center will eliminate the chaos in your supply channel by making your system simpler and easier to use.

SIMPLICITY Your Supply Center creates a single, customized web site that allows you to procure all your business products in one location, regardless of supplier. You will have one source for everything you need, and it will be right at your fingertips. This on-line marketplace will be the hub of your company's supply chain, where everything can be coordinated, from optimizing a product's merchandising to monitoring a supplier's performance.

AUTOMATION Your Supply Center will automate your order requisitions, requests for approval, e-mail confirmations, status reports and inventory levels. It will also interconnect your data systems, streamlining the flow of information from one system to the next.

CONTROL Your Supply Center allows you to change your vendors without changing your system. It also lets you set authorization, viewing and pricing filters to control what users see and access, as well as their spending levels and budgets. By establishing and setting these controls, you'll be able to curb maverick spending, reduce errors and avoid costly mistakes.

VISIBILITY Your Supply Center lets you to see your entire supply chain in a single view, giving you access to reports that will track, measure and improve the way you spend money, as well as how your resources move through the system. With better information you can improve your insight and foresight to make more informed decisions and do a better job complying with regulations.

GETTING STARTED Through all its many processes and features, Your Supply Center will save you time and money in procuring supplies, and end the chaos that may be plaguing your supply channel. Best of all, Your Supply Center requires little to no effort on your part: we provide the tool and the experienced team to do the job. Contact your CoreXpand™ representative today for a free personal demo of Your Supply Center. Like thousands of other satisfied users, you'll discover that Your Supply Center is a better way to buy supplies.