

Introducing

your supply center™

everything you need in one web site

According to an article in the Harvard Business Review, "...the performance of many supply chains has never been worse. In some cases, costs have risen to unprecedented levels because of adversarial relations between supply chain partners, as well as dysfunctional industry practices such as an over-reliance on price promotions."

Besides an over-reliance on price promotions, companies are wasting time and money by having various people in different departments order the same supplies from different vendors. There are just too many people trying to do the same thing and using inefficient technology to do it. Adding to the problem are poor communications within the company, lack of automation and control over the ordering process, lack of accountability in spending, insufficient reporting and stubborn habits in general. Whatever the various reasons, the chaos that exists in supply chains is primarily due to the absence of an effective system within which everyone can order, and it is costing companies hundreds of billions annually.

External Chaos

How can order be brought from this chaos? By a simple, online program called Your Supply Center. Your Supply Center organizes all your preferred vendors and consumable supplies into a single, customized web site for centralized ordering, as well as user, product, supplier and data management. It automates most of the processes involved in procurement, saving everyone time and money. It separates the technology that runs your supply channel from the vendors who supply the products, giving you more control. It increases accountability, eliminating maverick spending and waste. And, it increases the visibility of your system through up-to-the-minute reports, affording fresh insight and increased productivity. Your Supply Center will eliminate the chaos in your supply chain by making the ordering process simpler and easier to use. What would that be worth to you?

Your Supply Center simplifies product procurement by organizing all your preferred vendors and consumable supplies into a single, customized web site. This online buying environment will give you one place to go to order everything you need, and it will be right on your desktop. Instead of having to go to your suppliers one-by-one to order, they will all be brought to you in your online marketplace. Instead of looking through thousands of products to find the right one, you will only be presented with choices that reflect your purchasing history. Instead of using many different interfaces to make a purchase, the process will be uniform for all vendors. Best of all, Your Supply Center requires little to no effort on your part. We provide the tool and the experienced team to do the job.

Going hand in hand with simplification for saving time and money is automation. Your Supply Center automates most processes involved in procurement, including order requisitions, requests for approval, e-mail confirmations, status reports and inventory levels. A bi-product is the elimination of paper invoices, paper requisition forms and all the other paper trails you've created in the past. Everything is done electronically and instantaneously.

Your Supply Center interconnects your data systems, streamlining the flow of information from one system to the next. It interconnects Accounting with Operations, updates Warehouse inventory and order information, punches out to various procurement systems, and performs other operations.

Your Supply Center gives you more control over the procurement process by separating the technology that runs your supply channel from the vendors who supply the products. This allows you to change your vendors without changing your system. Eliminating the varying and often incompatible technologies of multiple vendors also eliminates varying interfaces. Both interface and process are uniform for all suppliers.

Your Supply Center allows you to set authorization, viewing and pricing filters that control what users see and access, as well as their spending levels and budgets. By establishing and setting these controls, you will be able to curb maverick spending, reduce errors and avoid costly mistakes. Industry studies have shown that companies with spending controls in place save as much as 15% on their total budgets.

Your Supply Center is not only an online buying environment, it's a communication center as well. It increases your visibility by showing the entire supply chain in a single view. You'll have access to reports that track, measure and improve the way you spend money, as well as how resources move through the system. You will know, up to the minute, where people, information and products are in the chain, thereby increasing your effectiveness at delivering on time and within budget. Through all its many processes and features, Your Supply Center will save you time and money in procuring supplies, and end the chaos that may be plaguing your supply chain. By simplifying, automating, and increasing the control and visibility of your system, Your Supply Center will increase its effectiveness and eliminate the waste.
